1. Software and Technical Restrictions

- Participants must use only MATLAB software for the competition.
- No external software is allowed.
- The use of external storage devices, such as USBs, is prohibited.
- Participants are not allowed to use pre-written code.

2. Internet and Communication Conduct

- Internet access is restricted unless specifically permitted or specified for the task.
- Communication between participants during competition rounds is prohibited.
- The use of mobile phones is not allowed unless permission is granted.

3. Code Integrity and Plagiarism

- All code must be written entirely during the competition period.
- Any form of plagiarism or copying designs and code from other participants will lead to immediate disqualification.

4. Elimination Round

- For MATLAB Madness, this round lasts 30 minutes and requires candidates to solve 20 MCQs.
- For Circuit Simulation, Round 1 is a 30-minute MCQ session covering theory and circuit identification.

5. Major Round

- The major round for MATLAB Madness is 60 minutes long, where candidates must solve 10 problem statements.
- The second round for Circuit Simulation is a 60-minute session focused on building circuits using PROTEUS.

6. Judging and Winner Determination

- The winner of MATLAB Madness is the participant who solves the maximum number of problem statements.
- Circuit Simulation participants must be able to explain their circuit when requested.
- All decisions made by the judges are final and binding.

7. Registration and Reporting

- Participants are required to register before the established deadline.
- Late entries will not be accepted.
- Participants must carry valid ID cards and report to the venue 15–30 minutes early.

8. Prohibited Means and Disqualification

- The use of any unfair means, malpractice, or non-compliance with the rules will result in disqualification.

9. Equipment Liability and Organizer Rights
- Participants must compensate the organizers for any damage caused to equipment.
- Organizers reserve the right to modify competition rules if it becomes necessary.
